About the Seminar:

Industries in India have been maximising their efforts to restore the ecological equilibrium while targeting to attain the designed manufacturing capacity to meet the global demands. It is immutable to discharge wastes from industries in various physical states such as solid, liquid and gaseous during their manufacturing processes. Complying with Environmental Regulations through ETP and STP processes require high environmental expertise and updated chain of technologies. Industries in India are compelled to update the waste Management technologies to satisfy Environmental Regulations prescribed by State and Central Pollution Control Boards and Ministry of Environment Forest and Climate Change. The focal and theme of one day National Level Seminar Organised by IWMA, with the guidance of Tamilnadu Pollution Control Board, are to guide the Industries with the strategies those need to be implemented among various categories of Industries to comply the needs of Environmental standards and to improve their process Efficiency for better product manufacturing practices.
